TUESDAY MORNING JUNE 30 1863

Reverses must not Dishearten.

Now more than ever the Government needs the cheerful, unwavering and defiant support of every loyal man. There is apt to be a tendency, after a defeat, or reports of disasters or disappointments, to falter and be discouraged—to wonder whether on the whole, for fear we may suffer too severely before final victory is achieved, it may not be better to make terms with the enemy. This is often and especially the case with those who have been loud and most vehement in their demonstrations of loyal devotion; but in our judgment such are the emergencies and times, when every true man will stand up and nerve himself all the more strongly in his faith and pledges to patriotic duty. We cannot expect to win victories all the time and every where, but we do have the satisfaction of knowing and of boasting that we have had great triumphs, and that nearly half of the territory which the rebels counted upon as subject to their control has been wrested from them. The line of our possession has been carried down, step by step, and though sometimes checked and even turned back, the general course of our movement has been forward and [illegible] gain. We have also grown daily stronger in Union sentiment, at home. Copperhead sympathies and acts are constantly becoming of less consequence and effect. Even Gov. Seymour labors freely and actively in collecting and forwarding new troops for the defence of our line in peril. Nor ought we to expect a short war. If we have the same success in the future as in the past, we shall, in spite of all possible obstacles, accomplish our purposes in less time than was consumed by the Revolution. Surely, it is worth as much to save a country as to make it. All we have to do is to press on. If reverses come, we must try again and again, and if need be a thousand times again, for the war must be fought through, and the longer we delay and hesitate, the harder and more dilatory we make it. Nor should men support the Union in the abstract simply, but we must stand by that Government, which is the actual and practical manager of the present operations. We are not bound to say that every thing which it does or proposes is the best or wisest possible, or that it [illegible] mistakes, but it is the acting Government, and so must continue for two years longer. Every loyal man will assist in giving it strength and making it what it ought to be during that time, and then if he does not like it, he can vote for something better and more in accordance with his views.

But whatever comes, we must not have anarchy in the loyal States. We must sustain the President in his great duties and responsibilities, and hold up his hands, and at the same time defend and [illegible] around the swords of those who lead our armies. Here is our safety, our interest and our duty. Let the law be maintained; let the Government be approved in every act which any man can approve, let the bond of the Constitution hold us all by its firm and sacred tenure, and let the preservation of the Union be the object of our daily prayer and our constant efforts, then we shall go safely through the storm and tempest and darkness now around about us, and be sure of final triumph.

Restored at Last.—Gen Stone, who, after confinement in prison for more than a year, could not ascertain by whose order he was arrested, upon what charge he was held, or who made accusation against him—has been restored to his position in the army, and ordered to duty in Louisiana, where he will report to Gen. Banks, commanding that department. We are fully persuaded that he will nobly prove his loyalty by the performance of his duty, and thus show to the country more fully, if possible, than is now apparent, that his cruel imprisonment was one of the most shameful acts of oppression and injustice which was ever committed.

[illegible] News.—The merchants of the Sandy City were highly jubilant when intelligence arrived that the day of ruinous competition and low freights was gone by. Prices at once went up, and long faces grew short with marvellous rapidity. All sorts of attempts were made to speculate "on the rise," but generally without success. Some adroit chaps went out on horse-back to Umatilla, to buy all stocks on hand at ruling prices, knowing of course, that advanced freights would make "a pretty thing" for them. How they succeeded is not reported.

Fourth of July.—The arrangements for the celebration are going on most admirably. Every thing promises well. The crowd is likely to be much larger than was anticipated, and that everything may be done in abundance and proper order, our citizens must not fail to supply the Finance Committee with sufficient means to meet every possible demand upon the public hospitality. Capt Eckerson has furnished a splendid gun, with men to take charge of it, and we shall hear such a salute as never before broke the silence in this region. Let every body have a mind to work and take hold heartily.

Words of an Old Democrat.—Judge Hiram Denio, presiding Judge of the Court of Appeals and a life-long Democrat, having been invited to attend the mass assemblage of loyal citizens at Utica (N. Y.) on the 27th May, made a patriotic reply, expressing sanguine hope of the success of the Union armies. Upon the duty of all loyal men to forego political differences at this period he is equally explicit:

"It is easy," he writes, "to point out mistakes and imperfections in the civil and military administration of the Government, and after the fact to show how they might have been avoided or remedied; and there is naturally a temptation to persons who have themselves had no aid, by their suffrages, in bringing the persons actually exercising the powers of Government into their official positions, to dwell much upon and to exaggerate such errors, and under the influence of party sentiments to lose sight of the character and importance of the contest in which we are engaged. But the persistence in such a course of thought and action is as wrong in principle as it is hurtful to the National cause. A Government like ours, based upon popular suffrage, in which official positions are renewable at brief intervals, can never suffer permanently, and for any considerable time, from erroneous precedent; but there is great danger, in a time like this, that while a portion of the people are employing their energies in disparaging the actual Administration, and endeavoring to bring it into contempt and to overthrow it, the National forces and the people at large, distracted and discouraged by the clamor of parties, will lose heart and hope, and that the conflict for the suppression of the rebellion, which can never be abandoned, will be thus prolonged. Hence it is to me a gratifying feature in your demonstration that it proposes to ignore party distinctions, and to embrace loyal men of all varieties of political opinion. If the insurgent leaders could be once thoroughly persuaded of the truth that every man and woman in the loyal States is thoroughly determined to resist their projects of dismemberment, as I believe that in the most part they really are, that conviction would go further than many regiments of armed men to bring the contest to an end. Men of all parties ought, by the plainest dictates of patriotism, to yield to the existing National Government a full, ingenuous and cordial support, not only by contributions of men and means, but by encouraging language and a hearty sympathy in their labors and trials."

The Insanity of Secession.—Of all the wild ideas that have entered the rebel brain, that of dictating terms of peace upon the soil of the loyal States is the most insane. We coincide with the Richmond journalists, that mere repulsing an occasional advance by the Army of the Potomac cannot save their cause, and that while acting on the defensive they must eventually be overwhelmed. But they have had sufficient experience of the temper and resources of the Northern people to satisfy rational men that all attempts to cross the Potomac or the Ohio and threaten the loyal States with the horrors of war, tend to strengthen the Government, increase the Union armies and hasten the downfall of the rebellion. Jeff Davis has been roundly abused by the rebel press for insisting upon a policy of defense, but he sees more clearly than his censors that by pursuing a different course there is nothing to be gained. A German writer, whose works have been liberally quoted of late, has endeavored to show how the rebels might capture the city of Washington and close the war in triumph, and a number of rebel writers earnestly favored a scheme of that kind; but apart from the difficulty of taking the National Capital, the consideration that such disaster would stir the loyal States to their profoundest depths, make war the business of twenty millions of people and bring down upon the daring invaders such a host of patriots as would dwarf even the great armies we have already put in the field, has doubtless governed the decision of the rebel chief. Davis knows that if ever the independence of the "Confederacy" is to be recognized it must be through the accession to power in the loyal States of a disunion peace party. The offensive policy destroys the prospects of the assistant rebels of the North. A successful rebel defense, on the other hand, may protract the war, discourage the people of the North, secure foreign recognition, and give the peace politicians ground favorable to their peculiar operations. Perhaps the Richmond journalists will shortly discover that their Chief comprehended the necessities of the situation better than his critics.—Union.

The Last Fight.—General Hooker looks upon the last movement with anything but dissatisfaction in the grand result, and said he, "Good people will cease to write me letters of condolence when my official report is published." The General has been receiving about fifty letters of condolence daily from people in the country, since the battle. He said he cared more about crippling the rebel army than taking Richmond. He did not care about sacrificing the flower of the Union army in pushing the rebels toward the strongholds of Richmond, but to encounter another fresh army from Suffolk. There is one man at headquarters whose business is to extract the official lists of killed and wounded published in the Richmond papers. These footings already foot up over 25,000. It is vain for the rebels to deny the aggregate when the details, officially signed, are admitted in the Enquirer and the Dispatch. General Hooker sets down our killed and wounded reported up to this time, at 8,200, and thinks his official report will aggregate the entire loss at less than 10,000 men.

Naval Opinion of Negro Bravery.—The following letter is from Admiral D. Porter's fleet surgeon, an officer who has always entertained strong Southern feelings:

You ask me whether a negro will fight. I answer most emphatically, yes. At Fort Hindman, when our storming party was forming, the first man who stepped forward for the scaling ladder was a contraband. All our spies are negroes. A contraband saved our expedition up Deer Creek. We sewed the dispatches in his cap and sent him twenty miles [illegible] regiments, and when I saw his black face emerging through the smoke of the enemy's fire the next day and yelling "Your people is a comin'," my opinion of negroes went up five hundred per cent. Let a man tell me the negro is a coward, and I'll tell him to his face he lies. I have seen enough of slavery, and am an abolitionist of the very worst kind.

Hard on Brother Greeley.—George B Cheever, pastor of the Church of Puritans, offended at the course which the Tribune has seen fit to pursue lately, grotesquely likens Horace Greeley to an old absent-minded snuff-taking Edinburg preacher, who, going two miles to his church one Sunday, in the face of a biting wind, turned round with his back to the driving element while he could take a pinch of snuff, and, forgetting himself, went back toward his house, leaving his expectant flock to wonder at the non-appearance of their shepherd.

Pirates off Boston.

Nine Vessels Burned.

The Enemy near Baltimore.

Bridges on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Destroyed.

Chatham, Mass, June 22.—The schooner Ink [illegible] arrived this afternoon. She reports that [illegible] the schooner [illegible] of Gloucester [illegible] 40 miles off Charleston lighthouse, having on board 150 prisoners from the pirate brig [illegible], which took the [illegible] yesterday and ordered her to New York with the prisoners. The [illegible] took and burnt six schooners yesterday belonging to Gloucester, also three ships.

Monocacy, Md., June 22d.—A special to the Philadelphia Press says a messenger has just arrived from Maryland Heights,—he thinks the place is strongly defended. The nearest rebels are at Little Antietam about six miles from Harper's Ferry.

Baltimore, June 22d.—A body of cavalry belonging to Couch's command, entered Frederick yesterday, and drove the rebels out.

New York, June 22d.—A Chambersburg dispatch says a detachment of the 1st New York cavalry had a skirmish on Monday with the rebels ten miles this side of Greencastle, Pennsylvania.

A special dispatch from Harrisburg, dated last night, says that there is no doubt that the enemy is fortifying Hagerstown, and that they hold the country between Hagerstown and Williamsport with at least a corps, probably Ewell's.

The enemy re-entered Greencastle, Pa., after a skirmish with our cavalry.

Harrisburg, June 23d.—News from Pittsburg shows that great excitement exists there. The rebels are reported forty miles distant. The enemy occupied Chambersburg this morning.

Baltimore, June 22d.—The American of this morning, informs us that no rebels had advanced on this place yet. The nearest approach of rebel cavalry was the arrival of a small body of scouts at Monterey, ten miles distant, where they stole a few horses and then made a rapid retreat as if fearful of capture.

Philadelphia, June 23.—The Washington Star of this evening has the following: Monocacy, June 22d.—The rebels have destroyed every Baltimore and Ohio railroad bridge from Cumberland to Harper's Ferry, a distance of 70 miles, thus inflicting very serious damage to the road. This they have done within the last 36 hours. Gen Kelley came up with them this morning at Cumberland and drove them out of town. It is supposed in this direction.

Chicago, June 23.—The details from the battle of Winchester show that Milroy had 7,000 men. The 8th Connecticut and 5th Maryland were captured almost entirely. The former was 900 strong. We lost three full batteries of field artillery, all the siege guns, 6,000 muskets and 280 wagons. Of the 7,000 men engaged, 600 reached Maryland Heights, and probably 300 escaped to Hancock and Cumberland. Since the foregoing was received 17 more of Milroy's command have arrived. We hear of the safety of 400 more.

New York, June 23.—Sterling dull at 156; gold, quiet at 43@43½.

Carthage, June 23.—News has been received that a body of rebels 300 strong crossed the Ohio river at Oil creek, on Sunday morning for a raid into Indiana. A dispatch dated yesterday morning says that their purpose is to burn the bridges on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad. The citizens were arming themselves to repulse the invasion.

Murfreesboro, June 23d.—The Savannah Republican of the 18th, says in the recent expedition of Col Montgomery, on the Combahee, he stole 700 negroes. A negro regiment 1500 strong from Boston, arrived at Hilton Head.

The Chattanooga Rebel, of June 21st says Gen. Carter has made another raid into East Tennessee with 2000 cavalry. He went to Leonard's station, destroyed the factory and tore up the railroad track.

Cincinnati, June 23d.—A telegraph operator reports an encampment of one thousand citizens one mile from that place for the purpose of resisting the enrollment act.

New York, June 23d.—The Herald says we have reports from Vicksburg to the effect that all the railroads have been destroyed from Lagrange, Tennessee, to Grenada.

Rebel telegrams, dated Mobile, June 20th, say the rebels repulsed the Federals twenty seven times at Port Hudson, and that aid was near at hand. They also state, that a courier had arrived at Jackson, Miss., who states that the enemy (Federals) were severely handled, and that the garrison had sixty days provisions, and will hold out to the last.

Cairo, June 23d.—Steamer Luminary, with official dispatches from Gen Grant's army to the 18th, has arrived. Everything progresses finely.

Fortress Monroe, June 21.—Richmond papers of June 20th, say that Darien, Georgia was burned by the Federals on the 11th of June and is now one plain of ashes and blackened chimneys. The ironclads (monitors) were at Brunswick, Georgia, and large forces had landed from transports.

[illegible] run the blockade from Wilmington, North Carolina, and was going to Nassau and thence to Canada.

New York, June 22.—The Saxon from Port Royal June 18th has arrived. The rebel ram Fingal was captured by the monitors Weehawken and Patapsco, in Warsaw Sound, on June 16th. No loss of men on our side.

The steamer Locust Point, from New Orleans June 15th, has arrived. The papers contain no news whatever. The purser of the steamer reports that nothing had been received from Port Hudson except that the fighting continued there. The results were unknown.

Louisville, June 22d.—News reached Headquarters to-day, that John Morgan, with five thousand men, crossed the Cumberland near Carthage last night. Passengers report considerable excitement at Gallatin, Tenn.—Precautions were being taken to defend the place.

The Chattanooga Rebel of June 19th, has the following:

Jackson (Miss.), June 15th.—A desperate fight occurred at Port Hudson on the 12th.—The Confederates left their intrenchments and charged the enemy, driving them from their fortifications and spiking their guns.

The Jackson Mississippian of June 11th states that on the previous Tuesday, the Federals visited the plantation of Jeff. Davis, running it, completely destroying every implement of husbandry, all the household furniture, etc., on the premises, and carrying off every negro on the plantation. Jo Davis, brother of the President, was treated in the same way.

California News.

San Francisco, June 22d.—Legal Tenders are 65@66. Mining stocks have revived perceptibly.

The British iron propeller [illegible] arrived to-day, 154 days from England via Callao, 25 days from the latter place. After a trip to Victoria she will take her place in the steamship line to China. This steamer came through the Straits and cannot have been the supposed piratical steamer seen off Cape Horn by the ship George Green.

Mr Cheesman, U. S. Sub Treasurer, says that according to the regulations of the United States Treasury Department, all warrants or drafts must be presented within six months of date of issuing, else they will be returned to the Treasury for re-issue.

A young man named Harry Rosche, who keeps a piano and music store on Montgomery street, is under arrest on six charges of burglary and one of grand larceny. He is reputed to be possessed of property valued at $30,000 left to him by his father, who died recently.

Arrived.—Bark Thomas [illegible], 20 days from New York to Forbes.

[illegible] of Cruelty.—At Little Rock in Arkansas lived a number of good and warm Union men, praying for a sight of the old flag and [illegible] deliverance. [illegible] prayed [illegible] They met nightly in cellars—had their secret grips and passwords—and with all the heroism of martyrs bore suspicions, taunts, threats and violence, pledging to their best [illegible] never to enter the rebel ranks alive. When Hindman occupied Little Rock in force twenty seven of these men were arrested and imprisoned on suspicion—their worst enemy accusing them of no overt act against the rebel Government. One day their wives, children, parents, brothers and sisters were invited by Hindman's orders to come and visit them. Their dungeon doors were opened and arm in arm with their rejoicing families they were suffered to wander under guard about the town and in the fields. The bright sunlight and sweet air of this unwonted freedom intoxicated them into credulity. They and the dear ones from whom they had been so long sundered were felicitating themselves with the hope of permanent liberty, and fancied that the tiger Hindman had forgotten his taste for blood. Just at the limits of the town the officer in command bade the families halt—and marching those twenty-seven brave men out of the very arms of love, ranged them in an open lot before a file of riflemen, and there shot all of them to death in plain sight of their shrieking households.

An Ancient Copperhead Silenced by Washington Irving.—Irving was descending the Hudson on the steamboat when the tidings of the triumphant entry of the British into Washington, and the acts of uncivilized hostility which followed, first reached him. It was night, and the passengers had betaken themselves to their settees to rest, when a person came on board at Poughkeepsie with the news of the inglorious triumph, and proceeded in the darkness of the cabin to recite the particulars: the destruction of the President's house, the Treasury, War and Navy offices, the Capitol, the Depository of the National Library and Public Records. There was a momentary pause after the speaker had ceased, when some paltry spirit lifted his head from his settee, and in a tone of complacent derision "wondered what Jimmy Madison would say now!" "Sir," said Irving, glad of an escape to his swelling indignation, "do you seize on such a disaster only for a sneer? Let me tell you, sir, it is not a question about Jimmy Madison or Jimmy Armstrong. The pride and honor of the nation are wounded, the country is insulted and disgraced by the barbarous success, and every loyal citizen should feel the ignominy and be earnest to avenge it!" "I could not see the fellow," said Irving, "but I let fly at him in the dark." A murmur of approbation followed the outburst, and then every ear listened for the reply, but the energy of the rebuke cowed the spokesman; for he did not again raise his voice.—Life and Letters of Washington Irving.

Mr. Holmes's new building, corner of First and Alder streets. He had attempted to reach back and in so doing he stepped off his staging and fell some six or eight feet, breaking a wrist, and otherwise bruising his face and head. Medical assistance was soon in attendance, and at last accounts he was resting as easy as circumstances would permit.

SPLENDID RUN.—We observe that our swift moving friend, Capt. Joseph Williams of the Sword M...itt, arrived at San Francisco on the 20th inst., having made the run from the Bar in sixty hours. His trip to Oregon and back in 22 days was the shortest ever made by a sailing vessel. He crossed the Bar with the Jaleoy and Cambridge, and beat them both to San Francisco.

RECORDER'S COURT.—In this Court yesterday, Henry Redung was fined five dollars and costs for being drunk and disorderly. Paid.

Mary Keiter, for fast riding, was fined five dollars and costs. Paid.

Augustus Cluckey and one Garripe, were arraigned for violent and disorderly conduct. The former was discharged, and the latter had ten dollars and costs or five days in the city jail.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.—We are glad to learn that Rev. George H. Atkinson, who for fifteen years has been a devoted and faithful minister at Oregon City, has received and accepted a call to become the pastor of the Congregational Church in this city. We congratulate the Church and the community upon such an accession to it, as Mr. Atkinson is well known as an able and earnest preacher, with a heart that prompts him always to aid in every good word and work, and we sincerely hope that his residence in our city will be a constant and long continued source of public benefit, and of happiness to him and his family.

RACE THIS AFTERNOON.—Sherlock & Bacon will run "Roan Jack" and "Mohawk" against J. B. Emery & Hannom's sorrel mare and brown gelding. Owners to select matches; race for speed and sweepstakes, $50—$20 entrance; to come off at two o'clock this afternoon, at the Union course. These are said to be the four fastest horses in Oregon.

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR THE FOURTH.—All persons desirous of contributing meats, pastry, poultry, cheese, butter, &c., &c., for the dinner on the coming anniversary of American Independence, will please leave their address at the stores of E. J. Northrup & Co., S. J. McCormick, Hodge & Calef, or with Alex. Dodge, at the Salt Works, and a conveyance will be sent to the places designated on Friday next.

FOR IDAHO.—Gov. Wallace and Secretary Daniels left on the boat this morning to organize the new Territory of Idaho.

IN TOWN.—Mr. J. O. Raynor, Union candidate for Delegate in Washington Territory, and Geo. E. Cole, the democratic candidate, were in town yesterday. They left for Vancouver this morning, at which place they will address the citizens this afternoon.

WESTERN HOTEL.—After several weeks of experience, we speak advisedly when we say that the Western Hotel, corner of First and M... streets, Mr. Sam'l Smith, Proprietor, is, to say the least, one of the best Hotels in this city; conducted in elegant, superb and high-toned style, with moderate rates and ... accommodations.

Operates immediately upon the Disease,

SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT;

while the SANATIVE PILLS, by preserving regularity in the Bowels, and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs, aid and assist the perfect operation of the former.

Attention is asked to the following Certificates, selected at random from the mass in the possession of the proprietors:

UPPER UWCHLAND, Chester Co. Pa., Sept 15, 1859.

DR. D. JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians, whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail, I obtained no relief for my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking it for about three months, I was entirely cured.

NATHAN PENNYPACKER.

ASTORIA, Long Island, Jan. 15, 1860.

L. W. TINELLI, Esq. New York—Sir: As you well know I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS, accompanied with the most painful tightness of the chest, and great difficulty in breathing for nearly two months, and I had almost lost all confidence in the power of medical science, when at your friendly suggestion, I began the well known (but not enough known) "EXPECTORANT" of Dr. Jayne, of Philadelphia. Three or four days after having commenced to take it, my cough had nearly subsided, the expectoration was easy, and the breathing quite free.

I am now quite another man, and my general health has never been better.

I remain, my dear Tinelli, with esteem, your servant and friend,

J. B. MONTE.

WESTVILLE, Tuscarawas Co. O., May 31, 1860.

DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: One bottle of your Expectorant cured my daughter of the LUNG FEVER, after having been beyond the hopes of recovery. During the attack she had ... of convulsions. She is now perfectly well.

J. H. COFFMAN.

... Bradford Co., Pa., July 23, 1863.

DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: My son was for one and a half years afflicted with a disease resembling CONSUMPTION. For two years he was not able to labor. He was finally induced to try your EXPECTORANT and PILLS, and after taking 16 bottles and some PILLS, was completely cured, and is now able to labor every day.

JOHN HENRY.

We would add to the above, that we sold to Mr Henry the medicine for his son, and know that the statement is true.

SEND FOR A CIRCULAR.

DR. BAKER'S
PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known even the most delicate to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it; to try it for the following diseases: If they are not as satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses you or much after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Canker of Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat ... four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea ... as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

Experience in Louisiana.

The following extracts from a letter dated New Orleans, April 20th, by [illegible] Hepworth, have been furnished [illegible] an eastern paper for publication:

I had quite an experience the other day, which as it illustrates one phase of Southern life, I will relate. The General desired me to go down the river as far as the forts and see if the Provost Marshals were doing their duty, and in what condition the plantations were, and whether the planters were faithful to their agreement. At the first plantation I called for the owner. Being a secesh true blue, he kept me. I was accompanied by Chaplain Wheelock, whom you know to be a true man, every inch of him—cooling our heels in the gallery for some little time. At last I sent an order, saying that I was on business and could not delay it any longer. Then he chose to come. I was foolish enough to take his word concerning his plantation and his negroes—everything was well. The only difficulty was that the free labor system was proving a failure. I knew that it would prove a failure with him; so I told him that where it should be, and where it had been fairly tried, it had proved a success.

Just as I was getting into my carriage a boy, black as the ace of spades, came tumbling round as though he had something to say.

"Well, boy, what have you to say?"

"O nothin, massa, only be you goin down river to look after de planters?"

"Yes, my good fellow, I am going to see that the right thing is done all round."

"Well, massa, jes let me give you some advice. When you wants to know how de colored people are getting 'long, nebber ask de white folks."

There it was in a nutshell. There is lurking in the negro's heart an instinctive antagonism to his master and his overseer as his natural enemies. I have talked with thousands of negroes, but I have yet to find the first one who does not consider his master and his overseer as his natural enemies.

There was one man who tried to bluff me. I understood from the negroes that he had said he would whip his hands if a thousand of the d— d Yankees stood by, and that we should never get back to the city alive. Here certainly was one of the original chivalry. I thought he needed to have his branches lopped a little; so the same evening I rode over to his house to see him. At first he was sullen, and demanded by what authority I was there. I pointed to my shoulder straps, and said, "Won't that do, sir?" Still he was ugly. He had maltreated his negroes in every possible way—had whipped the men and abused the women.

I told him of the charges which had been made against him, hoping that he would admit them, as he said he would. But, on the contrary, he was utterly oblivious. He had never used any language disrespectful to the United States. This made the old Adam in me crop out. He was a traitor, and too contemptible to meet the consequences; so I got up, in great rage, and, looking the fellow full in the eye, I said: "Sir, you have lied to me; I know it, and you know it. No matter. But if I hear the same reports again [illegible] arrest you; and if you resist as you [illegible] boasted you would, I will blow your brains out on the spot."

He never opened his mouth, but, to my surprise, I heard a muffled yah! yah! outside, and a voice saying, "de old debble's gittin his rights now, shure."

Heigho, these blacks are the only friends we have in the State. They are more intelligent, and in every way better men and women than I expected to find them. They will make good soldiers, and General Banks has on foot a scheme which will win the applause of the whole North. There is not a white man here who is not against us; there is not a black man who is not for us. There is one word, Severity, that we need in all our dictionaries. The greatest severity is the greatest mercy. Nothing will keep these people in check but the exhibition and use of irresistible force.

A correspondent with the army in Tennessee tells the following: "I heard a first-rate story, and although it did not occur in this division, is too good to lose. A private soldier named Cupps, who is a German, belonging to the First Missouri Cavalry, and now one of the body-guard of Gen. Granger, was out to the front a few days ago, and seeing a 'stray rebel,' Cupps 'made after him.' The chase commenced—away went Mr. Rebel, and Cupps having the fleetest horse, gained upon him rapidly, Cupps crying, 'Halt! halt! halt!' every leap his horse would make. But the rebel, bent on getting away, heeded not the call. At length the Dutchman reached his rear, and swinging his sabre heavily over his head, charged the rebel and brought him to a 'dead stand.' 'Ah ha!' said the now excited Cupps; 'how you vass all de viles? D—n you, anoder time I hollers halt, I speck you stop a leetle, unt not try to fool mit me so long, you d—n rebel.'"

An unique gift is about to be made to General Rosecrans. It consists of a gold pen and holder, the latter remarkable for having been carved from a cedar splinter picked up on the field after the battle of Stone river. The top is ornamented with a figure of Liberty minutely carved, the figure holding in one hand a broken chain, and the other sustaining a flag. A serpent writhing under her feet has its fangs inserted in its own body. A narrow gold band winds around the holder spirally, and bears this inscription: "To Major-General Rosecrans; with your sword in hand you have led your brave armies to glorious victories; with your pen you have struck terror and dismay into the hearts of traitors at home."

A lady, whose efforts to procure an office for an elderly man, "who was too far advanced in life to open a new road for himself," having been crowned by success, thus sensibly comments on office-seeking:—

"I would not lift my hand to get a government office for any young man any more than I would for my own son. I should think that I was blighting all his future prospects. Give a youth a profession, a trade, or put him to common day labor, rather than seek government patronage for him. Dependence upon government preferment is gambling in the worst of all games of chance."

[illegible]—Among the speakers announced to address the Copperheads of Newark (N. J.) at a late mass Copperhead demonstration, we notice the name of Fitz John Porter, Esq. We presume this refers to the General of that name, who has been dismissed from the public service for conduct practically treasonable. The public will not be sorry to know that he appears in his true colors, as the open apologist of the most infamous of all the Northern sympathizers with the slaveholders' rebellion.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years' trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
LAWYERS,
PHYSICIANS
and CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BROWN.
PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medical virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters:"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer "State of Maine," from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months: for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours,
ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.
